

Lexmark kiosk solutions – put your employees in touch with HR

With the rapid increase in Web-based employee benefit functions and ongoing human resource staffing challenges, leading-edge companies are now using electronic kiosks to handle many routine HR processes. From online applications to employee testing, job posting to benefits enrollment, vacation scheduling and more, kiosks free up HR staff and resources while cutting HR document costs.

There's no doubt that HR staff can be more productive when they are no longer mired in routine clerical paperwork. HR information system managers from large companies report that self-service technology is one of the most successful techniques they have used to improve cost effectiveness. However, the real surprise is in employee acceptance. Surveys show that HR kiosks increase employee satisfaction by up to 50 percent—if the kiosk solution is implemented with intelligent, easy-to-use technology.

HR goes self-serve with Lexmark.

Lexmark kiosk solutions go beyond printing to include user-friendly hardware and software, networking, maintenance and more. Deployed in company cafeterias, break rooms and building lobbies, Lexmark HR kiosks have cut costs by reducing staffing needs and eliminating pre-printed forms, while improving HR effectiveness by providing a simple, confidential way for employees to access the HR Web site to ask questions and obtain information in real time.

Unlock the Power of Self-Service

- Increase productivity by automating manual processes
- Improve employee satisfaction
- Add value to marketing messages with color
- Eliminate waste & storage of pre-printed forms
- Handle mixed media output

Lexmark multifunction devices with the full-size touch panel allow easy access to various forms. Customized icons on the operator panel make it easy for employees to have access to confidential files and eliminate costly pre-printed forms.
